Refrigeration Is Big Factor In Modern Home Life

When first placed on the market, the Electric Refrigerator was unquestionably an expensive appliance, both from the standpoint of original cost and upkeep. However, American homemakers were quick to realize its advantages and year after year acceptance has mounted so rapidly with the improvement in performance, cost and economy that today almost anyone can afford modern electric refrigeration.

Today as never before, the Electric Refrigerator offers many dollar-saving, food-saving, work saving advantages to the home, and is a veritable miracle of economy and performance. The homemaker who has a 1940 model Electric Refrigerator can have more ice cubes, more cold producing capacity, more usable storage space and more convenience than ever before.

The new models which will be on display at the Modern Home Revue here on May 7th and 8th by local appliance dealers, are big, roomy and brilliantly styled boxes with every possible feature for comfort and economy. Faster freezing speeds, easy-out ice cube trays, exclusive features such as full width sliding shelves, improved interior lighting, bigger food containers.

No truly modern home can afford to be without the manifold advantages of modern electric refrigeration. In the course of a few years, it has become indispensable equipment for the kitchen and this is as it should be. Never before in history has the family of average means been able to enjoy so many advantages to health, so much economy in domestic operation and such downright luxury in fresh, appetizing and delicate foods as is provided by the Electric Refrigerator.

The new Electric Refrigerator has an inherent advantage over all other types of domestic refrigeration methods because of its unique ability to produce and maintain perfect temperatures so necessary to the proper preservation of foods. The great flexibility of the Electric Refigerator provides accelerated freezing when more ice is needed or when very low temperatures are required. Increasing efficiency and economy have brought the cost and upkeep to a remarkable level.

Every homemaker wants better living for herself and her family, and no other one factor has proven its worth in a more impressive way than has electric refrigeration, which lightens the burden of housework, saves time and money, and contributes materially to better and more healthy living.

Appliance dealers of this city are prepared and eager to show you their complete lines of modern electric refrigerators, and will help you select the very box which is ideally suited to the requirements of your home. Visit your dealer and let your own eyes tell you the surprising facts about electric refrigeration. You will certainly want a new refrigerator for your home.

Seen, Heard and Told By The Editor

Several from the free state came to Grenada Saturday and stayed reasonable sober, certainly sober enough to hit the ground with a hat.

Col. Kahn and I are figuring on going down to Jackson real soon to check up to be sure Mike is still alive. We have not seen for sure in nearly two weeks.

It looks like Mr. Rundle has a new hat. Such extravagance!

Sam Blair does as many country people do, make notes from ads in the GCW, and sends lists of what they want, taken from the ads, to Grenada.

Ed James, rotund, rosy and rubicose, visited Grenada Saturday, as usual.

John Haxby said the back page of the GCW did not look right last week - but it looks O. K. this week, with his ad on it. He and the GCW have been giving the seed business fits this spring.

We appreciate the many nice things said of the Cub Scout issue last week. We admit it was a nice looking issue, but it had fine subjects to work with.

Aint they sweet.

Attend the Cooking School. Learn the technique of modern electric cooking.

GWTW: TVA.

Babe Costillow showed up week before last, and we have just got to mentioning the event.

Me and Mike. Here we are, not lost, just hibernating.

Sam Mitchell tried to get me to say something about someone having large pedal extremities (big feet, to the commoner) but, when I do, I will leave for Panama beforehand.

There was a near riot on Route 2 last week as the GCWs were lost, strayed or stolen. Most of the subscribers drove into town to get copies. John Henley is fixing to get lynched.

Cousin Jack Townes from the swamp in Greenwood came to Grenada Sunday to get a good meal from his folks, as well as to see a good train.

Dear Doctor Grainger: please, please write me about those croakers.

Dear Jimmie Arrington: I may be thru Collins Friday morning on the S. bound bus about tn. Just want to see for my own self if you are still alive.

THE FACULTY

Our faculty of Grenada High School portrays the spirit of education in the finest sense of the word. They not only uphold the high scholastic standards, but also participate wholeheartedly in the activities enjoyed by the students outside the class room. Believing that play and recreation are what factors in education, our faculty has sought to provide ample opportunities for such activities among its students. They show a spirit of loyalty, patience, and helpfulness toward us, and try to develop these same traits in us. We appreciate sincerely the extra effort they make to help us with our assignments. We can always count on their being loyal friends and counselors to all. Under the leadership of our faculty, Grenada High School is sure to go on to greater heights. May we be more successful in solving our own problems and those of our nation for having associated with these teachers.

MARY LOU CULLEN

DRAMATIC CLUB

The Dramatic Club met Thursday and (after planning a picnic to be at Lucy Moss's) had a very interesting program in the form of a series of original plays composed by the actors from each play. One was "Romeo and Juliet," the characters of which were:

Romeo—Agnes Crosthwaite.
Juliet—Mary Evelyn Colvin.

The songs in this play were of an modern version such as "Basin Street Blues" and "Oh, Romeo, Oh" from the tune "Oh Johnny, Oh".

The other was "The Ranson of Red Chief" with the characters:

The Kidnappers—Bill, Mozelle McCaulla, Tom, Mildred Moss.
Kid—Francis Kincaid.
Father—Beulah Abel.

After the play they elected officers, as follows:

President, Isabel Gattis; vice president, Agnes Crosthwaite; secretary, Mary Lou Cullen; program chairman, Lucy Moss; program committee, Estelle Bailey, Lillian York, Margarete Stanley.

ON BEING A YOUNGER BROTHER

I suppose, being a boy all of twelve years old, that I shall never be able to understand why girls like to collect so many gadgets. I'll never forget my ramblintg through my sister's treasure-chest.

Here is a strange looking something. It looks like a piece of rubber about two inches square. It is rubber. What was that for? Oh, yes, I remeber hearing her say that she and her "boy friend" had a flat tire and this is part of the patching. Humph! Girls are the silliest.....!

Say! What's this? A ball? Yes, it is. Oh, I see. It's autographed by that great golfer, Walter Hagen. No-o-o wonder she has it!

Oh-h! Morother—Oh, I see it's autographed by Jimmie. I was going to say—if she was smoking.

What next! An odd-shaped article—wait—it's a ring, made from a buckeye ball.

Oh, deah! Letters! Oh-h! O-O-ouch! Say, Sis, you shouldn't sneak up behind a body like that!

SOPHOMORES OF GRENADA BOY SCOUTS

The Sophomores of Troop 15 have contributed much to the success of the Grenada Boy Scouts. Most of these Scouts came from the former troop 18 and are very experienced in scout work. This experience helps the younger boys. We have one eagle scout and three life scouts. Three of these scouts have kept the cubs going from their start by much teaching and encouragement. The following Sophomores are still doing active work in troop 15:

Emmett Barrentine, Leon Provine, James Elliott, Bennie Cohen, James Thomas and Floyd Theisman.

BENNIE COHEN

NOTHING

(The author should know)

As I sit at my desk and ask myself what I can try to write about, the answer returns—nothing. Again I rack my brain, the peanut I use instead, and again the echo returns—nothing. Since I must write something to satisfy my teacher, I suppose I must take nothing. In this case nothing is something.

A boneless ham with the ham removed is an excellent definition of the word. The hole in a doughnut, a bunghole without a barrell around it, and the color of the west winds is always the same—nothing. Then the end of a circle and the contents of my purse fall into this class. Nothing in this case is really not anything.

Besides filling holes, nothing has few uses. It aids in the development of perseverance. Some people have achieved the fine art of doing nothing. They refuse to do anything. If you don't believe that this is an accomplishment, try it for an hour, five minutes, or a half a minute. Hours of strenuous practice age, required. After many weeks one can do nothing for as much as an hour.

Nothing fills a vacuum. For many years scientists searched for this truth only to find it in the head of a high school student. The all-powerful proof of this fact is stated above: A vacuum is a mass of nothing. I have often wondered what would be left if the nothing in the vacuum were removed. Likely, only some more nothing of a higher degree. Thus, nothing minus nothing, nothing added to nothing will, therefore, give one nothing.

FRED BARNES

THE SOPHOMORES IN BASEBALL

The Sophomores have given two stars to the Grenada Baseball team this year. They are Bedford Thompson, who now plays second base, and our main star Sidney Kettle, who plays shortstop. He is a hard hitter and will have a great future in this sport. Two others are Lambert Gammon and Bennie Cohen. The team has yet to see what will be its outcome this year.

Seen, Heard and Told

By The Editor

We had all our plans set, our announcement written (and set in type), as well as an editorial endorsing ourselves, to enter the race for Congress from this district, as it looks like somebody will have to be drafted, and I might as well get the job as somebody else, when one of the children raised so much Hell that I have postponed entering the race until next week at the earliest. The child does not want to live in Washington.

We had a humdinger announcement written, and were profuse in editorial praise of ourselves.

Hate to see old Morrow resign from the hosiery mill, and the boys and girls do too. Morrow has done a good job there. We sincerely wish him well in his new position.

Morrow is a fellow who improves on acquaintance. I did not like him until I knew him better. Now I have a high regard for him.

dere mr top, ime sending yu a peace frum ower 2 n 1 paper from which i cant git no since. i no yu goin 2 say thet the riter neads sum black draff but that aint so fer he all reddy got 2 mutch uv thet stuff. rite rite a way what he nint t.

Get out your nags and fillies for the Grenada Horse Show scheduled for June 4th.

Speaking of the hosiery mill, that young fellow Solar, the big cheese out there, seems to be a human sort of fellow, and on his toes so far as the intricate business entrusted to him is concerned.

We have so many ads and so much other news that we have to hit the high spots. Aint they sweet. Muckell is still at Parchman. Somebody is hurting. The aldermen and the supervisors have escaped cussing this week. In fact we heard that one of the supervisors did some cussing himself. Oh, yes, nobody has been appointed postmaster yet.

The old lady and some more Episcopal wimmen are in Jackson today. I will be there tonight.

If I run for Congress I will have to drop Mike from "Me and Mike" and make it "Me and Whit".

By the way, we found about a dozen extra copies of the famous Black Draught issue. 5 cents a copy. First come, first served.

Our former assistant-devil, Francis Hill, they say, got into a rucus in Jackson, but escaped alive.

The president of the hosiery mill stated to the writer that Grenada, thru its city council, had met every obligation made to the company one hundred percent. In turn let us, as one of the aldermen, say that the hosiery mill has lived up to its obligations practically two hundred percent, paying out nearly three times as much as it undertook to do, and employing at least twice as many persons as it undertook to employ. The relations between the hosiery mill and the official board of Grenada have been highly satisfactory to all concerned. Mr. E. L. Morrow, retiring secretary-treasurer of the hosiery mill, deserves a large share of the credit for the amicable relations.

As one member of the American Legion, I am going to make this statement: If the local post of the Legion does not get busy and insist that one of its three members who are eligible for the local postmastership be appointed postmaster speedily, this post might as well take down its sign. Only three men are eligible. Every one of the three is an ex-soldier. This is an ideal set-up for Legion work. If the Legion wants to play along with those who benefit by delay, well and good; if it wants to help its own members, it should insist that there be no further delay. ONE of the THREE should be its slogan. This is also an ideal set-up for the state and national organizations to work on.

Week before last we stated that our saloonkeepers were overlooking a good bet by not stocking Gibson's Rye. We were informed by the potential customer (whose name we never mentioned) that four of the boys had called him, informing him that Gibsons Rye was now available.

dere mr top, me an mr stoan is jest alike, my paw give me a nice little delta farm an i lost it. mr stoans paw give him a big delta farm ond he lost it.

Grady Triplett said those free staters wore his copy plum out.

E. L. Morrow Resigns From Hosiery Mill Position

Mr. E. L. Morrow has resigned his position with Grenada Industries, Inc. effective the 30th inst., and will enter the retail automobile field in association with the progressive Oliver-Lilly Motor Company. This announcement was made after an inter-change of letters between Mr. Morrow and Mr. I. E. Solar, president of the industry.

Mr. Morrow has been secretary-treasurer of this company for nearly three years, and has seen the plant emerge from a dream, to the blue print stage, and thence to the successful industry that it is today.

There was nothing phoney about this resignation, and Morrow is getting into a business where he thinks he can do better, and the Industry expressed sincere regret at his resignation.

According to Mr. Solar, the company has no definite plans for filling the position left vacant by Mr. Morrow's resignation.

COLORED MAIDS INVITED

Provision has been made in the balcony to permit fifty colored maids to see the Cooking School on both days at the Barwin Hotel. Use side entrance.

Grenada Band Gets Superior Rating At State Contest

In answer to numerous questions as to the accomplishments of Grenada High School Band in the State Contest in Jackson, we are pleased to give the following information. Of 17 bands in B class, Grenada was one of six to secure Superior Rating, or First Division in Sight Reading. In Student Directing of Band, Joyce Fleming of Grenada won Superior Rating. In marching, Grenada Band was placed in second division or Excellent Rating, only 4 bands of the 17 receiving Superior Rating. In Concert, Grenada Band was given Second Division or Excellent Rating. Here an error was made in the first announcement which appeared in the press. This was later corrected by the judges, but too late for the press.

In solo and group contests Benton Keeton received first division or Superior in Baritone Horn Solo; John Keeton received Superior or First Division in Trombone Solo; the Brass Sextette, composed of Wormack Smith, D. M. Taylor, Posey Gant, Benton Keeton, John Keeton and Fred Hodges, received First Division or Superior Rating; Charlie Calloway placed Second Division or Excellent in Flute Solo; and Jack Hudson placed Second Division or Excellent in Saxophone Solo. In all Solo and Ensemble contests, all grades of bands were represented, Class A, Class B, Class C, and Class D. There was no separation as to rank. In some of these contests there were as many as 56 contests in one instrument, so the person who obtained even 4th or 5th place deerves congratulation.

The Cornet Trio, Wormack Smith, D. M. Taylor and Rice York, placed Second Division. Bobby Weir and Frank Matthews in a Drum Duet placed Second Division. Brinker Thrower, Joyce Fleming and Rogers Pleasants in a Clarinet Trio placed Second Division. The Saxophone Quartet, Allen Anderson, Bobby Alexander, Jack Hudson and Mary Elizabeth Cowan, placed Second Division.

Those receiving Third Division or Good Rating, are as follows: Bobby Weir in Snare Drum Solo; Brannon Anderson in Clarinet Solo; Cornet Quartet, S. B. Cowan, Mickey Angevine, Bobby Parham and Albert Graves; and Clarinet Quartet, Brannon Anderson, Catherine Herring, Johnnie Mitchell, and Lynn Rose.

BAD HEALTH FORCES T. G. ABERNETHY TO WITHDRAW FROM CONGRESSIONAL RACE

To the People of the Fourth Congressional District:

I regret that I am compelled, upon advice of my physicians, to announce my withdrawal as a candidate for Congress.

On March 30th, I collapsed in the court room while attending my duties as District Attorney in Calhoun County. This collapse followed a similar but not quite so serious an attack in Ackerman on March 20. I was carried to Memphis on April 4 for expert medical attention and advice, and my doctors have advised me that I positively could not participate in any further strenuous activities for several months. They have assured me, however, that my illness, being caused more or less from a run down physical condition, is not permanent, and that I will fully recover if the treatment prescribed is strictly followed. I owe it to myself and my family to follow their advice and expect to do so.

For the past two weeks it has been generally stated and understood over the district that I would be unable, because of my illness and physical condition, to participate further in the primaries. Formal announcement of withdrawal has been delayed with the hope that my condition would improve to such an extent that I would be able to continue. Although I have improved, it is now a certainty that to continue is impossible without seriously endangering my health and life.

I am compelled to withdraw from a race which I am convinced we would have won. All indications pointed to a sweeping victory. Many frients from every section of the district had assured me of that fact. In my years of experiences I have been confronted with many difficult problems and called upon to make many decisions. But, the time heretofore devoted to my campaign, the rapid and most gratifying progress that was being made, the expense heretofore incurred, the assurance of victory from all sections, the disappointment that would result to my friends and to me upon withdrawal and many other reasons, have made this the supreme problem of my life for decision. It is unnecessary to say that it has been difficult indeed for me to be sensible enough to accept the advice of my doctors and withdraw from the race.

The interest manifested by hundred of friends in my campaign and my misfortune is deeply appreciated. Your many visits, letters and messages of loyalty and consolation will always be remembered. I owe to you a debt of gratitude that can never be repaid. So many of you have expressed your disappointment that we could not continue. It hurts me for you to be disappointed but your disappointtment does not compare with mine. Although we art compelled to withdraw we have not been defeated———we have only been delayed. I am quite a young man and there will be "another day."

I have been informed that there will probably be several candidates. It will not be my purpose to take part in their candidacies or attempt to influence my friends in supporting any certain candidate. I expect to remain neutral, unless subsequent events demand the contrary.

Gratefully yours,
THOS. G. ABERNETHY

WPA LUNCH ROOMS

One problem confronting school teachers and patrons alike is that of the child's noonday meal. It is a foregone conclusion that a child can do better school work if he is provided with a hot lunch. The WPA realizing this has where it was possible to secure cooperation, placed lunch rooms in the county and city schools. This has meant much to the growing child from the standpoint of health in securing balanced meals. It has also meant much to the parents in not having to prepare a cold lunch daily.

It is sincertly hoped that all the school patrons will continue to cooperate in this movement and in the future have more communities cooperating than last year.

Methodist Zone Meeting Held At Charleston Monday

The second zone meeting of the Methodist Missionary Society was held in Charleston Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Mrs. C. C. Waterman, chairman, presided. Mrs. R. A. Clanton, secretary, was unable to attend on account of illness. Mrs. A. W. Bailey from Holcomb, served as secretary for the meeting.

The theme of the program was "Building The New Church." Two hymns; "Take Time to be Holy" and "Savior More."

Mrs. Waterman very impressively gave the devotional, a period of silence and meditation followed by reading of poems and prayers.

New avenues of service through gifts, chair of Christian life and student secretary fund was very helpfully and interestingly given by Mrs. C. C. Landrett from Oakland.

Interpretation of Christian social relation legislation was very ably discussed by Mrs. Ludie Stokes from Grenada. She stressed the study of state laws covering traffic and narcotics and liquor control, also asked that we study the Johnson Radio Advertising Bill which prohibits advertising alcoholic beverages over the radio. She mentioned we are to study the imigrant situation this fall, also study conditions of jails and penitentiaries.

The "New Church, An Opportunity for Service,"' was very interestingly given by Mrs. Warren Stuart from Charleston. She mentioned we are not to grieve over the past or over our going into the New Church, but we are to get behind it and do our best. She spoke of the larger and greater opportunities there will be in the New

Cannot Get Excited

We cannot share the utter horror of our fellow anti-Johnsonsites about the Riddell Bill. Four weeks of ranting and raving throughout the state have not raised our temperature even one-quarter degree or our blood pressure one-fifth a point. We refuse to get excited about the Riddell Bill.

We concede that the State Tax Commission of Mississippi under the chairmanship of Mr. Stone has been, and is, a splendid organization, and has been, and is, just about as nearly non-political as any such organization in existence. We, however, refuse to believe that this splendid organization will disintegrate and vanish, like a puff of smoke in a cyclone, if Mr. Stone has to share his responsibilities with his fellow members.

We do not believe, in fact we know that the Tax Commission has not been wholly non-political. We know one man who was appointed by Mr. Stone, and kept there a long while, which man, we will always believe, was appointed because of his family's support of Mike Conner. This man, we will always believe, was retained during part of the White administration because of pressure being put on White, maybe not on Stone directly. Nothing wrong with this; of course, for it is done everywhere, all the time, even in the sacred tax commission. Every governor wants GOOD men, but he thinks that the fellow who voted for him is just a little better. Nothing strange, and nothing wrong about that, of course.

That Governor Johnson wants the Riddell Bill passed just to force Mr. Stone to resign, is surely speculative. That Mr. Stone will resign in the event the bill passes, also is purely speculative. That the state state tax commission will be destroyed if Mr. Stone does resign, is also speculative. Most of us are egotistic and think that "nobody can do it like I can". The writer, in egotistic moments, thinks the GCW would go to hell if he should pass out of the picture. Pure unadulterated egotism, when analyzed! John Keeton thought his store would go bankrupt if he took a week's vacation. Pure and unadulterated egotism! Joe Neely thought little Joe would ruin the business during a week's absence of the elder Joe. Pure and unadulterated egotism, for little Joe showed up with the best business of the year! Therefore, there is somebody who can fill Mr. Stone's shoes, should he resign or retire from other offices, maybe fill them better, who knows?

This bill may be passed, or it may be killed by the time this is published, but, inasmuch as we have not been excited about it, we promise not to get excited about it in the future. Way back in the bushes, it is a case of the "ins" and "outs" all over again. The "ins" want to stay in, and the "outs" want to get in.

We Still Have The Bale

In 1932, when Herbert Hoover started this RFC business, giving away stuff, we said that if that damn-foolishness continued, this country would sooner or later have uncontrolled inflation, and that a dollar bill would not buy a pinch of snuff. Seeking to throw an anchor to the windward, we took one little bale of cotton and put it in Lee Taylor's compress in Grenada where we said it would remain until one of two things happened, viz: first, the cotton "ate itself up", or, second the proceeds from its sale would pay all of our debts. That bale of cotton is still in the compress and there we hope it will remain. In fact Lee Taylor should forgive or remit the charges that have accruded against it for the government has fooled me, as it has avoided uncontrolled inflation so far. Lee should give that bale of cotton an even start.

We still believe that uncontrolled inflation is the fate of our currency. We still believe that that bale of cotton will eventually pay all of our debts. We would not today take a dollar a pound for that bale of cotton. When it gets to a dollar a pound, it will go to a million dollars a pound. Sounds foolish, eh? What would have happened to a fellow who bought a bale of cotton before German inflation, and kept it nearly to the end of that period? That man could have paid the pre-war debt of Germany with the proceeds from his bale.

All of us realize that this RFC business cannot continue indefinitely. It can continue but little longer unless the Congress raises the present debt ceiling. It is obvious that this ceiling will be raised, as it is obvious that the next step will be the further devaluation of the paper dollar in terms of gold.

While each one knows that this RFC business cannot keep on forever, each one also fails to designate a place to stop. It is damned if you do, and damned if you do not. Should the government withdraw from business and wash its hands of the whole depression today, this country would experience the greatest financial catastrophe ever known; if it keeps on borrowing itself out of debt and "buying prosperity", a greater catastrophe awaits us. This administration has not averted pay-day; it has merely postponed a bigger pay-day.

Many on first blush will advocate abandonment of all these alphabetical schemes. Should all be abandoned at once, a clamor of monumental proportions would arise from the very individuals who had previously clamored for the abandonment. There is no turning back. This country must go forward to a fate that causes us to shudder. Should it stop at once, it would have revolution. If it continues, it will have uncontrolled inflation, which would amount merely to repidiation of debts.

"Sufficient to the day is the evil thereof". Let's go on, hoping for a better day. Speculation about the future gives one the jimmies.

In the meantime, we still have that bale of cotton.

Cattle Thieves

Gathering of evidence against cattle thieves in the county is an expensive proposition, it has developed. In the days when the stolen cow was driven under her own steam, it was comparatively easy and comparatively inexpensive for the sheriff's force to make investigations, for the area of investigation was strictly limited. In this day and time, no stolen cow ever goes under her own steam, but she is bundled into a fast-moving truck, and wakes up in Memphis, or in some other distant market. The area of investigation has become very, very large, and naturally more expensive.

We are just wondering if there is not somewhere in the laws some provision either to reimburse the officers for actual expenses, or, at least, to partially reimburse them.

Our sheriff, let it be understood, is doing the best he can, and bearing his own expenses in these investigations. Let it also be understood that this is not an "inspired" editorial, for the sheriff will know nothing of it until he sees it in print.

Our cattle raisers should be given every reasonable protection; for, in our close-knit community, if they succeed, we all are benefitted, and, if they suffer, we all suffer.

Better Save Your Money, Boys

In Sisson's column in the Commercial Appeal Sunday, we noted that there was a probability of either Walter Sillers or Alf Stone running against Bilbo this summer. Mr. Stone will be the "victim" of the Riddell Bill, if it passes, while Walter has been the mighty man who fought the passage of that bill. Hundreds of people of the state flocked to Jackson, and hundreds more sent letters and telegrams concerning this bill, and these people and those messages many have aroused false hopes in the breasts of these two good men.

While hundreds came to Jackson to see about that bill, tens of thousands stayed at home and will, at the proper time, vote for Bilbo.

While hundreds got all wrought-up and exercised about the bill and spent good money sending telegrams, thousands of people do not give a damn one way or another, and know not whether the Riddell Bill is one to provide compulsory castration among swine, or a bill to reduce the nitrogeneous content of Chilean soda - and care about neither.

The Riddell Bill will not be a serious issue this summer and those basing their hopes on that bill, as well as upon the fate of Mr. Stone, are grasping at straws.

Either one of these gentlemen if a candidate, would receive the strictly anti-Bilbo vote of Mississippi, but this vote would not be sufficient to elect either. Bilbo would eat either one of them blood raw.

Hugh White, is the only man who can get within smelling distance of Bilbo, and even Hugh might get only a faint whiff.

Would We Take Sides?

If Sears Roebuck and Montogmery Ward & Company, the outstanding mail order houses of the county, became involved in a great war, would we, the ordinary citizens, get all wrought up about it, and prepare to get into the scrap on one side, or would we sit back and enjoy the feast of bargains that this war brought to us?

If we would remain neutral in such a war as that, and cash in on the conflict, why should we Americans get all hot and bothered about the war between England, Colonies and Company Ltd.' and Germany-Austria Inc.? This European war now raging is basicly only a conflict betwten the two dominant commercial nations of the continent, each nation jealous of the growing power and prestige of the other. It would appear that the better policy for America Inc. to pursue would be to cash in on the opportunities, commercial and otherwise, that this war gives it.

The Average American would not send his boy to Chicago to cheer for either side and risk having him crushed in the jam. Nor does the average American want to send his boy to Europe to be sacrificed to see that England, Colonies and Company Inc. triumpts.

Get it out of your head that this is a "holy war". This is not a holy war, nor has there ever been a holy war. Every war ever fought was started to satisfy the personal ambition of one man, or to gain or retain some advantage for or of a minority group.

When you begin getting too patriotic and too desirous of war, go to the nearest veterans' hospital and take a good look at the fruits of the last war.

Let's Save Mike

A minority of us thought we needed Mike in 1940, but a majority of Mississippians will want him, come 1943.

A considerable element of anti-Bilboites, hating to see Bilbo go back unopposed, wants to run Mike against Bilbo.

Let Mike alone. Let him save up another stake. Do not bother him with politics until about the beginning 1943.

Mississippi is going to need him by 1943 as badly as a one-armed paper hanger needs another arm.

He has no more chance of beating Bilbo in 1940 than a tallow-legged dog has of catching an abestos cat in Hell.

If Bilbo just has to have fresh meat, feed Hugh to Bilbo.

Attention Delinquents

If you have frequent headaches, dizziness, fainting spells, lame back, accompanied by chills and fever, cramps, bunions, lumbago, carbuncles, jaundice chilbrains, epileptic fits, high blood pressure or rheumatism, it's a sign you are going to die soon.

So, hurry to the Grenada County Weekly, pay your subscription, if in arrears, or subscribe if you are a non-subscriber, and secure for yourself a fine obituary.

Uncle Sam Loans

Uncle Sam, with his three golden pawnbroker balls, has a shop on nearly every corner in nearly every town in the United States. He has a substantial equity, thru loans advanced, in every conceivable thing of value from the nation-wide railroad system to the flea-bitten mule of the FSA client. He has practically driven building and loan associations out of business thru the FHA and HOLC; he has reduced many banks from lending institutions to merely collectors of ten cent charges on government checks; he has finished putting the furnishing merchants out of business thru the Seed Loan and the FSA; he has established a Surplus Commodity outfit which gives away stuff that merchants (who, in the end, pay for much of the free stuff) would otherwise sell; he has loaned some money and given the rest to the states to build concrete roads paralleling the railroads, then turned around and made immense loans to the railroads to keep going in the face of the competition encouraged by the concrete roads; he has subsidized barge lines with immense grants and with government-maintained rights of way which take business from the same railroad system than gets additional loans

But Uncle Sam, the pawnbroker, has an unbeatable system. If he loses on a FSA client, he comts along and takes all of us to retrolve his loss; if he loses on a railroad loan, he taxes the solvent railroads sufficiently to recoup the loss. If he pays too much for surplus commodities which he gives away, he taxes the merchants and gets some more money to buy some more commodities to give away in competition with goods on the merchants' shelves.

You cannot beat Uncle Sam's system. It is fool proof.

Congratulations to Editors Fletcher and Spraggins, of the Sardis and Senatobia newspapers respectively, upon a splendid joint-edition publicizing the soon-to-be stock show.

Poor Mississippi!

To Attend Cooking School

Most of the wimmen folks of Grenada are planning to attend the cooking school next week at Barwin Hotel.

Many of them have these modern appliances, but few of them get full advantage of them. Therefore, they are planning to attend this school so that they will in the future be able to get everything "in them" out, for they realize that it is folly to have an electric range and cook the old coal-stove way; to have modern electric contraptions galore, yet be unacquainted with the subtleties of their operations. Living in a modern age, they plan to become better acquainted with modern methods, and that's a happy thought.

Quite Complacent About It

The anti-administration leaders seem to think that they have scored a victory in holding down the Johnson budget to $42,000,000y and they are really entitled to credit for this accomplishment. But how tax payers can be so complacent about it is marvelous. They seem to think they win when a SMALL annual increase in the budget occurs. The tax payers cussed poor old Mike when his administration got by two years on $22,000,000; they gulped a little, but swallowed Hugh's budget of $38,000,000 for the biennium; now they smile when they are merely saddled with a $42,000,000 budget.

What essential thing has been added in eight years to warrant a doubling of state expense? When can the people of this poor state expect a reduction in expense? These are questions that the average man, not looking for a job, would like to see answered.

Post Office Situation

So far as the naked eye can discern, there has been no change in the postoffice situation in Grenada. The gentleman who has been acting as postmaster in Grenada for two years is still acting-post master.

Mr. Ford still has three ex-soldiers to select from: R. D. Sharp, first; W. W. Whitaker, ex-first, now second; and Frank York, ex-second, now third. Loving the ex-soldiers as he does, he has a real bargain in that list.

MT. NEBO NEWS

Miss Betty Carter has just returned from a four day visit with her sister, Miss Wilma at Goodman College.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Sugg and Miss Winnie Hall motored to Graysport Sunday to visit relatives.

One of our pets, Edward Sugg made a trip to Grenada last Thursday. Can't find out whether it was on business or pleasure.

Regie Dupyster, churn, coffee bucket and pot inspector for northern district, spilt himself out here last week. He is hard boiled and insulting and made many enemies.

When a community has a colored man in it who is at all times respectful, kind and obliging to all white people, that community has a valuable asset. We have such a colored man, who was born and raised here. He has been on the Provine plantation twenty five years. He is very unassuming, looks as innocent as a pet fox, but naturally knows all the passes of the little ivory cubes and has never been accused of being habitually bone dry. Its a fact that if one wishes to see him its surer to have an appointment. He can borrow a dollar from anyone who knows him on his word, which he makes his bond. He has been known many times to cut and haul wood to poor sick white neighbors and even give them food without making any charge, or even any hope of reward. His father died when he was a small lad. He took his mother and kindly cared for her till her death a few years ago. He has raised four boys and four girls and he has taught them all to respect white people. The above is an outstanding case. We would be better off if we had more like Pomp Parker.

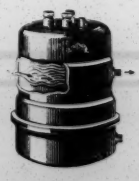
A Roller Rolls...and there's ice

That's simplicity . . . also that's economy! Here's the sturdy cold-making unit that delivers arctic cold on a ripple of current. Here's the 1940 refinement of the Rollator mechanism, pioneered so successfully by Norge a dozen years ago . . . now so widely imitated . . . but only in part. For here's the only domestic cold-maker that's

Refrigerant Cooled for Heavy Loads

Norge alone circulates through the compressor unit the same refrigerant liquid that cools the food compartment. That's why the Norge Rollator runs so coolly and so economically . . . even under heaviest loads in hottest weather. And it continues its superb performance year after year because it is the only Rollator Cold-Maker permanently sealed and oiled.



The Greater NORGE as low as $119.50

Let us show you how you can get more for your refrigeration dollar

Come in . . . see how easily you can own a Royal Rollator Refrigerator. There's a NORGE for every kitchen, every purse

Methodist Zone Meeting

Church for the women.

Next Mrs. Waterman gave the high lights of the annual conference that was held at Kosciusko, among other things she mentioned, that the Woman's Missionary Society is to be called "The Woman's Society of Christian Service," and that we are to soon sign as charter members of the new society. She brought the four major points in the conference President's message, also gave the most important parts of some of Mrs. Alexander's messages that she brought tot the annual conference.

Mrs. A. W. Bailey who is to assist Mrs. W. R. McCormack, of Corinth, the conference superintendent of Spiritual Life and Message) in the Sardis-Grenada district gave the legislation on this phase of the work, and asked that each auxiliary within the zone, please form these groups and, to keep them functioning and with power and to see that they report once a quarter to Mrs. McCormack.

Rev. A. C. McCorkle, was asked to make a few remarks. He spoke of the New Church and of what wonderful opportunity that lays out before us.

Hymn, "Blest Be The Tie. Prayer, The Lord's Prayer was prayed in unison.

At the close of the meeting the Charleston ladies served a delicious plate.

The next meeting will be held in Grenada.

NOW AND THEN

The teacher was before the class speaking his piece of mind. "Never before have I seen such a bunch of 'nubbin-heads,' he said,' he said. "Here you come up without preparing your lessons, and how do you expect me to teach you anythinyg if you don't know and haven't studied a tiny particle of what I'm saying?" "Well," he said with a deep sigh, reclining peacefully on the two back legs of his chair with his feet against the desk, "that means I'm going to have some of you hanging around this afternoon.""

Then he began reading the names of the ones that were to stay for the afternoon. What are teachers anyway? Making us stay in and miss that "swell" ball game on the radio. Are they men or beasts?" That was probably the greatest question that was blowing through the mind of each individual as his name was called for the after-school session.

That little episode that took place in the paragraphs above is just the sort that makes those unfortunate individuals sit in that afternoon session and dream of and long for the time when the student will draw a salary to go to school, and the teacher will have to sit in the back of the room and be pointed at and told how to act and be kept in the afternoons until the student, who will be called "mister," gets ready to go home.

Let us go into the future a few years and look in upon what he hopes will be happening. Will Ray get that raise that he expects for doing his extra work for th school board? Let's drop in on the most typical looking freshman of the year 1980.

The scene is the home of the Harvey family. Inside the cozy looking house sits a man and his wife, anxiously awaiting their son Ray's return from school where he is employed as a high school freshman. The woman is about of the knitting age, but is still holding to her cigarette. With a sigh she lays her knitting aside and squints at the clock, saying: "Well, Charlie its about time Ray was getting in from school. You know the freshman classes don't act today as they did back in 1940, do they? Her our son is already married and in his freshman year in high school. Why, we didn't even think of getting married until we were in the sophomore or junor year anyway, did we?"

Slowly the man laid his pipe and newspaper on the table saying, "Yes, Effie, I suppose you're right, but I'm not kicking though, with our Ray getting paid weekly by the board. Oh, here comes Ray now."

Into the room walks a young man of fourteen years all dressed up in loud colorful clothes and a flashing white hat. "Hi ye mom and pop," said he in a fatigue-strained voice. "Sure had a tough time today. Had to take a meter stick to that teacher. He just won't study though; that's all the trouble. I'm going to take it up with the board and see what they can do about it."

"Now, now, son you musn't get your dander up over just one teacher; said Mrs. Harvell in a comforting voice.

"I know, mom, but you can't do anything with him. He never studies. I never see him take his books home with him. He wants to talk too much, too."

So much for the future. But will Ray get the raise he expects from the board for that extra work? Wait and look forward to the year 1980, dear students. But note that raise was for extra work. Even here it was the work that determined the pay. Pshaw, just as well prepare my lesson for tomorrow.

DIRT, ETC.

The sophomore class is very lucky to have some of its members to place in the State in Field Meet.

Anne Duncan—World History, 2nd.
James Thomas—Latin II, 3rd.
Mary Lou Cullen—English II, 4th.
Kathryn Jones—Home Economics II, 9th.

Congrgatulations also to those in other classes who won state places.

Some people are unable to gegt it into their heads that they aren't supposed to walk out of school at 3:00.

Vera Payne said that if it would be all right and polite to send graduation invitations to the boys, she dated she would have to order another fifty.

Mr. Watson accused Vivian of keeping up with Ralph but she says it must have been "two other guys".

Doesn't Lola Mae look graceful riding the new family vehicle? (A big bicycle.)

Isn't Frances Davis a cute child with her hair cut? She and Hilda Taylor are trying to bring short hair back in style.

It seems that Lola Mae got the usual special delivery letter that has been going to the other side of town.

Charline are you falling for thatt old line too? You had better watch those Sunday night surprises.

Well, well. Another Sophomore-Senior case. If anyone had been going Main Street Wednesday night after the show he would have seen them—and holding hands, too! They make a charming couple. How do these Adams Street girls vamp their men? Nellie, can you tell us?

Elizabeth Andrews seems very much interested in a little yellow school bus.

The sophomore girls have been doing some elegant cooking lately Last week they had fried chicken and ice cream. Oh boys, here's your chanpce.

If you want to see Anne Duncan and Dorothy blush just mention Oliver.

Caroline has almost decided to take in sewing after making her pink and white skirt.

Why does Dot Talbert always go in for F. T. (And it's not Frank Tims either).

Flash! Ruth is still singing "Oh, Johnny" but has a new flame; any minute she's liable to start singing "I'm just wild about Freddie" (not Harry).

Does anyone know any on Mary Lou Cullen? She seems to be the most perfect sophomore we have.

Bernice—"I Dream of Moosey with the Light Brown Hair."

Caroline—"Sweet William."

Fred—"Seeing Nellie Home."

Mary Lou—"Oh I wish I had someone to love me."

Pauline—"I wish you were dead you Shot oou" (eternallo).

Louise—"He Was My Man But Hey Done Me Wrong."

David—"Marjorie."

Anne Odom—"I'm an Old Cow hand."

Are John White and Merritte Clogston so patriotic that it takes them all the thirty minute period to take the flag down or is it just pure laziness?

Is Mary Lou Cullen so smart or is it the help of the neighbor next door (James Thomas)?

It seems that Ruth Townes went on a reducing rampage for nothing. Johnny has quit sitting by her at the show.

"I see," said the blind man when Cohen dropped a token in his cup.

Boon, and Mr. Watson have at last settled their feud. Mr. Watson buried the hatchet but Boone dug it up again under cover of darkness.

Wonder who Anne O. dated Thursday night in Jackson? (He's a Jr., and from GHS too.)

One day when it was cloudy and raining, Jesse Strider asked Miss Stephenson to strike a match and see if the lights were on.

Charles Kenwright loves to sit at the table in the library where Lill York sits every morning.

Austine Kelley has quite a habit of losing her fountain pen in her dress.

Frances Davis seems to be stepping out on Hubert. Walter could you know anything of this? Margaret C., you had better get a tighter hold on Walter.

Jackie Lane seems to have a hobby of taking other girl's boys. Jackie, you shouldn't be so cruel. Isn't one enough?

Wonder who Bryan Baker likes to go to see on Adams St. Robert T. you better watch out.

Jack Calk gets crazier and bolder every day.

Wonder Why:—Do you know?

Frances Herring likes Heath Bros. and Millsaps College?

Bernice Jones likes to ride down Depot Street (eastward.)

Catherine Harrison gets letters from Memphis ever so often?

Mildred Moss goes to the Methodist Church so often?

Pauline R. is interested in the physics class?

Nellie Joiner likes to trade at Jordan's.

Catherine Jones and Billy Gray like Hardy?

Emmett Barrentine likes to ride down Adams Street?

ROMAN BANQUET

On Tuesday, April 30, 1940, the second year Latin class had their Roman banquet on the high school campus. The memters of the Junior Classical League were guests of honor. Everyone was dressed in togas and reclined on mats while eating the delicious food served by three of the first year Latin class.

MENU

Gustus-alevec—stuffed eggs, celery, radishes, sardines.

Cena—fried chicken, rolls, cheese, string beans, asparagus, pickles, onions.

Secunda Mensa—candy, pecans, dates, apples.

Punch.

PEARL MARTINDALE

DUSK FAIRIES

Dark and dreary were the days,
Musty odors filled the woods,
Dingy sea blue were the bays,
Dusk was falling wearily.

The moon came up so slowly,
Casting shadows all around,
Figures short but oh so lowly,
Danced with awe in splendidness.

Only one was dressed in white,
All the others in pastel.
She, the great queen, all alight
Watched o're her people gladly.

Perhaps is an intruder would,
Chance to see the people dance,
All would disappear—they could,
Because they were fairy folk.

And then when he was gone,
Again the little folk could dance
Spectural all night long.
And disappear at the sun rise.

Frances Guidry Weissker

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS

The Sophomore class as a whole
Is big and brave and bold.
As soon as each task is done,
Its do'er has another begun.

When they started into high school brave,
They had a battle to be engraved
Upon the mind of teachers and men—
This battle to go through high school to win.

No star students like Effie Mae
Or James Thomas may ever say,
They have found a spot they couldn't go through,
For they have the "stuff" and they can do.

Now for Jessie I could not say
That he would ever be strong and brave;
But one thing sure we all do know;
He is big and has a desire to go.

I'm not the one to judge or say,
But I think that some day
Our Sophomores will find the way
Through high school without delay.

CAROLINE TILGHMAN

A TYPICAL CUSTOMER

The boss in a furniture store walked up
To a middle aged man and said,
"Sir, what can I do for you today?
May I sell you a rug or a bed?"

"I aint come here to buy a thing"
The man turned 'round to say.
"It's the dealings I've already had with you

"Do you remember the cooking stove
I traded you for a range?
Do you remember the nigger you sent
With the truck to make the exchange?

"That day my wife had gone to see
A neighbor down the road.
That nigger came and brought the stove,
But when she never knowed.

"When I got home, she sez to me,
'I done a foolish thing today.
I left our supper in the stove
That nigger carried away."

"Her two best bowls wuz in the stove.
It's really quite distressing.
One was full of boiled ham,
The other was full of dressing.

"You say youven't seen them,
Nor heard of such before?
Then that triflin' nigger stole 'em
When he brought 'em to the store.

"Oh, I'd like to tell that nigger
A few things he should know,
But if you'll give me two more bowls
I'll let the dressing go.'

Effie Mae Frazier

Do You Know?

Whom Hilda Taylor is so interested in Chicago?

Do you know what senior girl (she wears a diamond ring on her left hand) almost stayed out too late Sunday night?

Whose maroon car Vera Paynye was in Sunday night? (Note: It was not C. C. Hamby's.)

Why Hilda T., Martha Jane, and Frances suggested a moonlight picnic for the seniors provided outsiders may be invited.

Caroline Whitaker was so anxious to get her name in the "dirt".

SOPHOMORE PROPHECY

Just see Louise Avent
Another Miss Black,
And Bennie Cohen on the railroad track.
He's earning a living
Rather than being given
His clothing, his food, and his tent.

I see Merritte Clogston
Working in a mine.
On a ship peeling potatoes,
Sits Leon Provine.
He hasn't grown a bit,
Almost a midget,
But he hasn't wasted his time.

And Jackie Lane is now amid
The raising of her seventh kid.
While Jesse Strider, what is more,
Is still Miss Stephenson's sophomore!
In the summer time he follows Ole Beck,
The dust he makes is worse than
The Great Trek.

Now Flod Thiesman, on down the list,
Is teaching Greek at Ole Miss.
Sara Lou Abel, the Latin scholar,
In dear Miss Pierce's footsteps will follow,
While Beulah, one of her sisters,
Entertains her many visitors.
For she's in society, you see.

And last, but not least
Comes one of the wee-set
Of all of the Sophomores boys,
In the summer time he follows a plow,
And quits whenever his papa will allow.
Who could this be,
But that Hill, W. T.?

JEAN THOMAS

JOKES

Caroline: When I first came to Grenada I didn't have a single penny in my pocket, and I didn't even have a pocket.

Anne: How did that happen?

Caroline: I was born here.

Catherine Harrison: Do you play golf with Cliff?

Jackie Lane: Dear me, no! I would not even know how to hold the caddie.

Miss Barnett: Did you sweep behind the door, Billie Guy?

Billie Guy: Sure. I swept everything behind the door.

DEDICATION

When I die, bury me deep and place my literature at my feet and tell Miss Stevenson I've gone to rest and won't be back for my literature test.

James Thomas: How did you pull your tooth, Jesse?

Jesse Strider: Daisy of high school I was changing gears on a bobjob.

Anne Duncan: Are a bright history student? How did you make out on your exams?

Bernice J.: Oh, just like Napoleon.

Anne: What do you mean?

Bernice: I went down in history.

I only have four studies
But they keep me on the run.
And all my friends and buddies
They tell me I'm so dumb.

But in my biology
With all the bugs and worms
It's better than my history
With all its Bastile germs.

I think it's rather funny
When my English teacher speaks
"Thomas is a dummy."
In it goes and out it leaks.

He knows he's dumb—what of it?

Revue of Modern Home Methods Is Feature of Show

Latest, streamlined methods of home modernization will be featured at the big free Modern Home Revue and Cooking School here May 7-8, and Grenada homemakers will be thrilled when they see and hear of the many new features which can add to the comfort and convenience of the home, at great savings of time, labor, effort and money.

Every detail of the home is tremendously important in the part it plays in the creation of greater happiness and easier existence. From every standpoint, modern methods of home improvement will be shown and demonstrated at the revue and Cooking school.

There was a day, not long ago, when the success of a homemaker was largely judged by the lightness of her cakes and pies, and the spotlessness of her home, with very little consideration being given to the time and effort a homemaker expended to secure such results. Today, however, Mrs. Modern homemaker realizes that even though she should make better foods and keep a better house than her neighbor, she must not fail to create a happy home, free as much as possible from care, worry and unsightliness. In order to fulfill your dream of an ideal home, the Modern Home Revue and Cooking School has arranged a complete program vivid in its interest and appeal to all homemakers of this city. In attending these daily programs, you are certain to profit greatly.

The Modern Home Revue shows you the value of household appliances in your daily work. Through this Big event and its lecture-demonstrations you can obtain much valuable information through personalized presentation by Mrs. Gillis, who will bring to you many short cuts, modern methods and suggestions that will result in the saving of time, leisure, money and health. All homemakers will find valuable solutions of home problems at the Modern Home Revue and Cooking School, and learn worthwhile things important to the successful discharge of household duties. A visit to this event will be a new and precious experience for any homemaker.

In thinking of a modern home, too many women associate the idea with a palatial home and a staff of servants. Money helps of course, but one does not have to be wealthy to enjoy a modern home with all necessary comforts and conveniences. There are thousands of well managed homes without a servant in sight; homes whose owners have learned the value of modern methods that banish drudgery, gloom and unhappiness and promote happiness. Thanks to these modern methods, which almost any home can afford, the lady of the house need not face a long dreary workday such as her grandmother experienced.

The Modern Home Revue and Cooking School points the way to this new freedom, explaining in detail how it can be obtained. Mrs. Gillis wants every homemaker in Grenada to attend her presentation of Modern Home Methods. In extending her cordial invitation, Miss Gillis paid the following tribute to the Homemaker:

"Homemaker, a term used so often, carries great significance. This word refers to the woman of the household, be she wife, mother, sister or daughter. A Homemaker manages the home, juggles the budget, acts as purchasing agent and stokes the home fires into a cheerful beacon which guides the family to the hearthstone.

"It is She who ministers to the physicyal and spiritual needs of the family, who creates an atmosphere of comfort and cheer for their enjoyment. The French have a word for 'house' but no word for 'Home'. Americans, to whom the home is hallowed, have coined the word HOMEMAKER as a tribute to their women at home. Truly, these Homemakers deserve every modern convenience and help that will serve to lighten their labors and lengthen their leisure hours.

"It is to these Homemakers that the Modern Home Revue and Cooking School is wholeheartedly dedicated, and we shall certainly look forward to the pleasure of bringing our Revue to every homemaker in Grenada."

Home Cooling Is Easy With New Methods

Like Prosperity, Summer is just around the corner, and the wise Mississippi homemaker is giving increased attention to the age old problem: "How to keep cool in hot weather".

Fortunately, this problem can now source of fresh supply.

sofar as the home is concerned, thanks to Air-Conditioning—electricity's latest and most dramatic contribution to the health and comfort of the modern home.

No home can be called truly modern without having some provision for healthful and scientific cooling. Such a home is obsolete from the standpoint of comfort, health and convenience. A broad statement, of course, but true, nonetheless.

Yet, through the simple and economical medium of Air-Conditioning, the homemaker can provide complete control of atmospheric conditions in the home which is neither expensive to install or operate.

These advantages are obtained with modern Air-Conditioning;

1. Even circulation of air to prevent stagnation and unevenly distributed temperature and humidity.

3. Regulation of the moisture content of the air, which means adding to it winter and extracting or de-humidifying in summer.

4. Cleaning or filtering the air to remove foreign particles such as dust, soot, pollen, bacteria, etc.

5. Providing ventilation to freshen and replenish the air, remove objectionable odors and assure a constant source of fresh supply.

Man has always been known to find some means of artificial heating for his health and comfort in the winter, but until comparatively recent time, he had failed to perfect a satisfactory method of combatting summer heat.

Air-Conditioning is the perfect solution to this age-old problem.

Attic Ventilation

Still another effective method of providing home cooling is found in Attic ventilation. It is common knowledge that when Old Sol bears down with all his might in summertime, an immense quantity of stagnant heat accumulates in the attic, gradually spreading down into every room in the house. Attic ventilation corrects this evil at its very source, driving out the hot air and circulating a smooth, even flow of pure air throughout the entire house.

Modern Home Cooling methods, operated with cheap electricity, are vital factors to the health and comfort of the home, and every homemaker should take into consideration a method of combatting summer heat. Wise people will not "wait until the horse is stolen to lock the barn," but will safeguard themselves and their families in plenty of time to enjoy the great benefits which are readily obtainable through home cooling.

Seen, Heard and Told By The Editor

"Where is my wandering boy tonight?" Probably out at the saloon getting a pint of licker, or out shooting craps, or maybe out necking.

It just looks like we are never going to have any more room for TVA editorials. These big ads from the power trust force TVA dope out every week. Oh me, I can stand it.

Color-blind auto drivers had better do something about their eyes. Red means stop; Green means go. Provided, of course, you have not taken a dose of Black Draught.

Well, we got by another first of the month by the exercise of good alibies and the forbearance of creditors, and at that, our pocketbook looks like a banana that Willie Lee Sykes stepped on.

I guess the monsters have been exterminated in and about Grenada, as I have seen or heard nothing about them lately.
